Factories Settle Down To Business As Play-Offs Start

Sparkling Display Of Baseball Marks Start Of Play-Offs, Two-Run Game Opens Series

In a seven-inning game, which was a real pitchers' battle, Davis Leather was victor over the Office Specialty in a hardball league contest last Thursday evening. When the game ended the leathermen were on the long end of a 2-0 score.

The game was the first shut-out registered in two years of competition in the Newmarket local league. Bob Peters turned in a masterful display of twirling for the tanners, while his opponent, Harold Hilton, who was on the mound for the furniture makers, although not quite as effective, held the leathermen to the least runs they have obtained this year.

Peters allowed the Specialty batters only two hits. He struck out eight and allowed one walk. Only 23 batters faced him in the course of the game.

Broughton and Widdifield were the successful hitters, while such redoubtable sluggers as Charlie VanZant and Ben Wilson bit the dust on three successive occasions. The leathermen played errorless ball. Hilton allowed only 27 batters to oppose him during the seven innings, and only five to obtain hits.

The game was the first of the semi-final series. The winner will meet the military camp for the title.

Live Near London, But Have Never Been There

"Thank you very much for your kindness in sending me cigarettes," Lieut. E. L. Chandler writes from overseas to the Newmarket Veterans soldiers' comforts fund. "They were very timely in their arrival. I was all but out of fags. I know you won't mind my disposing of some of them to my platoon, as I have some boys under my command who are not as fortunate as others. Those who received cigarettes asked that I thank you for them and I know they mean it heartily. It is very comforting to know that soldiers of the last war are behind the 'young bloods' of today.

"You can be assured that they won't let you down. I have often wished I could be with men from our town but then the army is pretty much a big family and I may very conceivably find myself fighting beside men of our locality in the very near future."

Receiving your cigarettes quite regularly now and I want to thank the 'old boys' of the Veterans Club," writes Cpl. E. Tunstead to the Veterans. "I was travelling around quite a bit and now the cigarettes have caught up with me all at once. How are the old boys doing back there? You certainly are doing a fine job of cheering the young Vets. up over here. I met a few of the boys from Newmarket, Vera Clark and a chap by the name of Knute, both as happy as can be because they hear from home and the Veterans quite regularly."

"Once more I wish to express my sincere thanks for the cigarettes I received last week," writes Cpl. S. A. Dow to the Veterans. "I am quite sure the boys of Newmarket who are over here will never forget the kindness of the people of the town without whose help the different organizations and clubs could not keep up their fine work."

"Just a few lines to thank you for the carton of smokes I have recently received," Sgt. P. J. Pemberton writes the Veterans. "They were really okay. They came at a very acceptable time and that was while we were in the wilds of Scotland on a scheme and we were all out of smokes. That is one thing we fellows really welcome over here because these limey cigarettes are terrible on the throat."

"There isn't a lot to talk about around here. This country is really lovely this time of the year with the flowers in bloom and the gardens all up and they are really very plentiful. It doesn't matter where you go over here, everyone has a garden."

"We have been eating new potatoes now for over a month and new carrots and all the different vegetables. They have asparagus here but it is a little too expensive for us to buy, as much as we like it. It's eight shillings a pound, which is too two dollars, which is awful to our ration."

"I guess that you have probably heard that I have just recently been married over here. The folks that live next door to my wife used to live in Canada at Guelph and when I go up on leave they have a few Canadian dishes, which include cream pies and pumpkin pies, which they never heard of over here. We have a fairly good time at their home while I am up there. We have a few good talks about different things that we have in Canada and that they never heard of in their life before."

"Another thing that's amazing to these people is the distances we travel in a day. They tell us we're crazy. I have talked to several English people a few miles from London and they have never been there. They have their pubs and shops and the grocers and their work all in a mile's distance and they now leave that area hardly at all."

"We have a fairly good time over here when we are on schemes. The people in the towns where we halt bring out tea and sandwiches and all sorts of things."

"I suppose you have already seen in the papers that the Canadians are in action at last. We really wish that we were with them but our day is coming and it can't come soon enough to suit me. All we can do now is await our turn and do our best and better when the time comes. I'll guarantee that the boys from home won't let you down, they'll do their very best."

Cards of appreciation have been received from Tpr. D. E. White, Tpr. Harold Gadsby, Sgt. A. Lindbaum, Sgt. Vic Bridges and LAC J. K. Watts.

George H. Mitchell, Reeve, Contractor, Wins North York

Alex. A. Mackenzie Wins Second Place For Progressive-Conservatives In Contest

North York followed the province-wide trend in yesterday's voting. C.C.F. and Progressive-Conservative candidates led the Liberal candidate, who was a member of the last legislature.

Victor A. Hall, returning officer, said today that with five or six polls to hear from George Mitchell, the C.C.F. candidate, seemed to be the victor, with a lead of several hundred votes over Alex. A. Mackenzie, Progressive-Conservative.

Morgan Baker, member for North York since 1934, was defeated.

The result was in doubt all evening, with a late radio broadcast giving the seat to Mackenzie.

The lead passed from one candidate to the other as the returns were compiled. Forty polls showed: Baker 2,108, Mackenzie 2,067, Mitchell 1,612. Fifty-five polls: Baker 2,734, Mackenzie 2,874, Mitchell 2,400.

Mackenzie still had the lead with 97 polls: Baker 4,334, Mackenzie 4,489, Mitchell 4,188.

Mitchell swept into the lead with 128 polls compiled: Baker 4,583, Mackenzie 5,062, Mitchell 5,342.

No. 23 training centre, Newmarket, added to these totals Baker 4, Mackenzie 7, Mitchell 18.

Two of the remaining seven or eight polls added further to the Mitchell lead: Baker 96, Mackenzie 97, Mitchell 172.

Complete totals were: Baker 5,077, Mackenzie 5,425, Mitchell 5,864.

Canadian Press figures indicated today that the Progressive-Conservatives would have 39 seats, and that Col. George Drew would be called upon to form a government. The C.C.F. would have 34 seats, two won by women, and the Liberals would have 14 seats.

Two "Labor" (formerly Communist) candidates in Toronto swept all before them, defeating candidates of the three major parties.

The three party leaders were elected, Premier Harry Nixon, George Drew (PC) and E. B. Joliffe (CCF). Ex-Premier Mitchell Hepburn was elected as an independent Liberal. Seven Liberal cabinet ministers went down to defeat.

Although the C.C.F. had no organization in Newmarket, no committee rooms, and no one getting out the vote, Newmarket gave the C.C.F. 413 votes compared with 495 for the Liberal candidate and 454 for the Progressive-Conservative.

The 1937 riding totals were: Baker 10,867, Cleverley 350, Mackenzie 8,187 and Ross (CCF) 1,058.

A WEEKLY EDITOR
Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

By JIM GREENBLAT

In the house of commons the other day I attended, on behalf of the weeklies, a press conference for General Henri Giraud. A memorable experience for me. The general spoke for 50 minutes, without notes. Tall, wearing a plain khaki field uniform without decorations of any kind, he looked every inch the famous soldier, who in two wars has escaped from German prisons.

His chiselled granite jaw sets up an interesting face, close to a double for the late Lord Kitchener. He talks in slow, measured tones, without gesticulation; at times arms folded. He has piercing eyes which seem to take everything in without moving. While speaking, his face, stern, is in complete repose.

Only twice did he appear animated; once when talking about the road from "Tunis to Berlin"; and again later in the question period when asked what effect recognition would have for the National Liberation Committee. His face lit up and he smiled broadly, saying if that was a political question, he knew nothing about politics. He was introduced to the press conference by Prime Minister King.

Questioned in the house why the discount on Canadian funds as against U.S. dollars, Finance Minister Ralston stated that stability is much more important at the present time. Any change in final exchange rates, he declared, would cause a vast amount of dislocation; some would benefit, others wouldn't. There would be no national gain by reducing the spread now. For instance if the west exported a lot of grain to the U.S. they would suffer by reason of the changing rates set. It was pointed out that to wash out the exchange rate while competing with countries whose currency is depreciated below ours would be a disadvantage to us.

As the Sicilian invasion news broke, parliament sitting in irritating, hot sticky weather, fenced its way through a penetrating discussion on foreign affairs. Mr. King, Mr. Graydon and Mr. Coldwell had formally pledged Canada would not fall out fighting men. J. H. Blackmore said he wanted no repetition of the deal given soldiers after the last war.

Howard Green, Vancouver, C.C.F., proposed a foreign affairs committee [Page 4, Col. 7]

GAVE HALL, PARK AND LIGHTS TO VILLAGE

One of Zephyr's best-known residents, William Horner, died at his home on July 28 after an illness of two weeks. He suffered a stroke.

Mr. Horner was extremely active all his life and took a great deal of interest in the community and its welfare. Starting in the contracting business, at which he was successful, his interest later turned to farming, where his shrewd business ability brought him substantial success.

About 20 years ago he gave a modern community hall to the Zephyr Women's Institute and about ten years ago he gave the village a community park. A few years ago he installed an electric street lighting system in the village. Always of a cheerful disposition he will be greatly missed in the community. He was a member of the I.O.F. and the United Church.

Born in Vaughan township in 1861, he was the son of Eva Snyder and Daniel Horner, Scott township. He married Rebecca Cronsberry in 1881.

Surviving besides his widow are three sons, Norman, Scott township, Mason, Cannington, and George, Winnipeg, one daughter, Mrs. Elwood Walker, Zephyr, two brothers, Albert, Zephyr, Wesley, Maple, and one sister, Susie, Toronto.

Thirteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive. Rev. Mr. Ferguson and Rev. Mr. Good conducted the funeral service on July 28. Interment was in Zephyr cemetery.

ILL SEVEN WEEKS, JAMES KING DIES

In ill health for seven weeks, James King died at his home at 24 Court St. a week ago. Born at Waterbury, Conn., James King was a son of Mary and Timothy King, Innisfil, Ont. He married Mary Milroy on Aug. 20, 1881.

Mr. King worked at one time for the Grand Trunk Railway and was lately employed in the shipping department at the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. He was a member of St. John's Roman Catholic church.

Surviving besides his widow are one son, John, Milroy King, two daughters, Mary Agnes Smith and Janet McIvor, eight grandchildren, Edgar, James, Donald, Laura and Janice McIvor, Jack Woods, Percy Taylor and R. J. King, nine great-grandchildren, one niece, Frances Atkinson, and one nephew, Harold Baird.

Rev. W. D. Muckle conducted the funeral mass at St. John's Roman Catholic church on July 31. Interment was made at Bradford.

The pallbearers were John Milroy, David Milroy, Joseph Milroy, Harold Beard, Jim Beard and Neil Ibbotson.

WELCOME THE STRANGER

"Canada's selfish shutting of her doors to the stranger was undoubtedly one of the causes of the present war," says the Midland-Penitanguishene Free Press Herald in the course of an interesting argument in favor of welcoming both to the nation and the local community adventurous, hustling strangers, people who were dissatisfied where they were before and who had enough initiative to do something about it.

Hitler was only the occasion of this war. He was the man that threw the first stone. He was the man who was able to gain power in Germany because of poverty, unemployment and the shutting of other countries—with lots of "lebensraum"—to German manufactures and emigrants. "We have 'lebensraum' in plenty, living room for a hundred million people," says the Free Press Herald.

If we want peace and prosperity we will have to be less selfish. We will have to open this country to the trade of the world and we will have to open our great unsettled areas—and our towns and cities too—to the people of crowded Europe, possibly to the people of overcrowded Asia.

WASTE NOT, WANT NOT

An evening in a hay field last week brought to memory early haying experiences—in another province. As a youngster we remember spending a vacation on a farm on the south shore of Nova Scotia. A yoke of oxen drew the hay-rack—the racks avoid the necessity for any scientific building of the load until you get above the racks. "Haw Lion! Gee Bright!" The hay, we think, did not grow as heavily as in York county fields, and it was not to be wasted. After the hay-rack had gathered the hay into winrows, we hand-raked between the winrows with wooden-toothed rakes. We used the hand rakes too behind the hay-wagon to gather up the wisps of hay that fell from the load.

Oxen are still in use on the south shore of Nova Scotia. When we were down there a few years ago we saw oxen taking grain to the mill to be threshed—just think how long it would take a yoke of oxen to pull all the grain from an Ontario farm to a mill several miles away to be threshed! Or how long it would take them to haul to a mill to be threshed the grain from a western Canada farm!

One wonders if Col. Drew is thinking, when he talks of the reclamation of waste land, of putting returned soldiers on rocky or poor land that hasn't been considered worth farming. If that is the plan, we shall be going back to the use of oxen in Ontario, for you can't sell a worn-out tractor for beef.

STORE HOURS

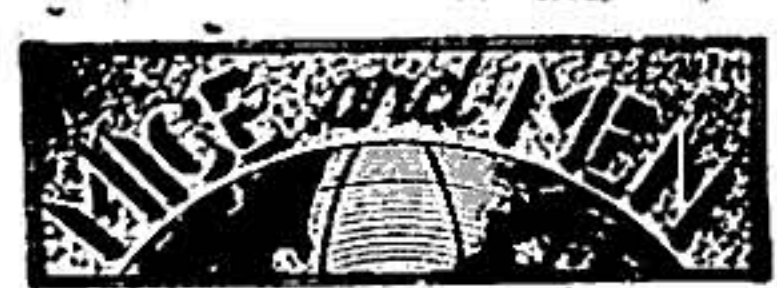

A large Midland store has announced the following hours: 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, except Wednesdays, and Saturdays. Wednesday hours 9 a.m. till noon, three hours, and Saturday hours 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., twelve and a half hours. That is in a town where summer is considered to be the best time of the year for business. Nearby Wasaga beach is crowded with visitors and Midland itself is a popular tourist town. Shorter store hours mean a real increase in wages for store employees, and give the manager himself a chance to catch his breath. If the war goes on much longer, it is quite possible that retail store hours will approximate those of banks. People are not inconvenienced by bank hours and manage to get their business done quite nicely between 9:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. and between 9 a.m. and noon on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

WATCH NEWMARKET GROW

(Stouffville Tribune)

The editor of the Newmarket Era and Express persists in the statement that "Newmarket will inevitably become bigger." If the claim is correct, it will reverse the record of the past 25 years or more of Ontario towns. Twenty-five years ago, according to a book record we have, Newmarket had a population of 3,800, and Aurora had more population than it claims today. Likewise, the town of Uxbridge had a larger population 35 years ago. Aside from the suburban Toronto area, towns generally in York and Ontario counties remain almost stationary. Since Newmarket can scarcely accommodate its people now on its narrow business thoroughfare, the local editor would do well not to encourage further growth.

Forest fires cost Canada more than $3,500,000 in 1942. The money wasted would pay for a month's output of small arms ammunition for nearly 1,200 universal carriers.

The Allies have taken 77,000 prisoners in Sicily, 50,000 of them by U.S. forces.

Hon. J. L. Halsey arrived in Winnipeg on Tuesday on a visit to western Canada. He delivered addresses in support of Liberal candidates in federal by-elections.

A decree from Rome has banned the "honorary rank of corporal in the Italian militia." There were only two holders of this distinction—Mussolini and Hitler, on whom it was conferred in 1938.

A dispatch from Zurich quoted Hamburg police as saying 30,542 persons were killed, wounded or missing in the bomb-battered north German port during the last week's blitz.

Peter Krug, young Nazi pilot, escaped again on Monday, this time from Gravenhurst prison.

WADING-POOLS

(Kirkland Lake Northern News)

The wading pools out at the pumping station are well patronized this year as in the past and once again we commend Gordon Browne for the foresight that brought the wading pools into existence.

Unlike other centres Kirkland Lake has no place, nearby, where youngsters can wade or swim and the wading pools meet the needs of the youngsters in no uncertain way.

The wading pools had a very humble origin. Mr. Browne, some years ago, noticed some youngsters had taken advantage of a leak in the large main coming from the pump station and had gouged out a little basin nearby that, filled to the brim, made a satisfactory wading spot. Right then and there Mr. Browne determined, without council sanction at that, to do a little more excavating with the idea of making a worth while pool. He even scrounged a few bags of cement and lined it and that is how the first wading spot came into existence.

It became tremendously popular and then council heard of the wading pool and paid it a visit. Only comment was that it should be made wider and deeper. And so as the time went on the pool was added to. A second and larger pool was created and a little one for the very tiny tots. On hot summer days the wading tanks are a refreshing meeting spot for the boys and girls of the township.

Right at this time Teck Township is experiencing financial difficulties. But, perhaps, when times are better, council may see fit to greatly enlarge the pools. The contour of the land adjacent to the tanks lends itself admirably to such an extension and a tank large enough to accommodate adults would be more than welcome. We venture the opinion that if the people of the township were approached they would, very willingly, agree to a slight taxation, it would only take a fraction of a mill, to provide the funds necessary for the project.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN HYDRO POLICY

(Orillia Packet and Times)

One of the weaknesses of public ownership is that, when a utility run on business principles makes a success, it tempts the politicians to cut a melon. Such appears likely to be the fate of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. In the present campaign, the political parties are openly competing in promises as to what they will do in the direction of "adjusting rates on a more equitable basis" if returned to power. Mr. Nixon draws attention to the fact that the Hydro reserves of 190 millions are double what they were ten years ago, and suggests that "the wise use of this money, plus sound policies, will result in the removal of the terrible disparity which now exists in Hydro rates." Col. Drew promises that "the Hydro-Electric Commission will be removed from political control," but at the same time forecasts "an immediate adjustment of rates on a just and equitable basis." He specifically promises the removal of the service charge to farmers.

It would appear that in both policies there is to be a radical departure from the principle of "power at cost," which was the basis on which Sir Adam Beck established the Hydro-Electric system. This had already been modified somewhat by the bonuses given to rural lines. There has been a widespread demand for what is called a flat rate system, under which current would be supplied to all municipalities at the same rate, irrespective of the cost of getting it there. Whether this is what the political leaders have in mind is not clear. What is perfectly clear is that they are both using Hydro rates in a bid for political support. And this is a dangerous practice. If there is to be a change in policy it should be brought about through the Commission, after due collaboration with the officials who understand the system. And that body should not have its hands tied by ill-considered promises made in the heat of a political campaign.

The danger implicit in political interference in Hydro business was well illustrated following the advent of the Hepburn government, when, on the advice of a self-confident amateur, contracts for power entered into by the Commission on the advice of their engineers, were cancelled. Fortunately, Mr. Hepburn discovered that Mr. Roebuck was not a safe guide, and he renewed the contracts. Otherwise Ontario's war effort would have been severely handicapped.

Another indication of how little the politicians know about the technicalities of Hydro business is afforded by the suggestion credited to Mr. Nixon that ere long Ontario's homes might be heated by electricity. As a matter of fact, all the power generated at Niagara Falls would suffice to heat only a portion of the homes in Toronto, and the price would be prohibitive. Or to bring it nearer home, Orillia's two power plants wouldn't be equal to heating half the houses in the town on a cold winter's day, leaving no current for industrial, commercial and domestic purposes, while for four or five months the houses would make no use of the current available for heating purposes.

In a sense, the policies of the Hydro-Electric Commission are not Orillia's concern, since the town owns and operates its own plants. But for that very reason we are perhaps able to look more objectively, and from a disinterested point of view, at the proposals that are being advanced during the course of the present campaign.

A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

There was a dynamic, expectant air about the house of commons late Saturday night as members waited for the exodus to the senate chamber to hear royal assent given to bills passed. They were just like youngsters at school getting ready for summer holidays, eagerly sang songs in varying chords from tenor to profound bass. They all trooped to the senate and heard Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff give assent, soon returned to hear Mr. King move adjournment until Jan. 27, 1914, ending a six month session. Members broke off, party lines vanished while they shook hands, said good-byes, cleared desks. Sunday I watched the usual visitors wander round the buildings, but the vaulted corridors seemed to miss the hurrying feet of parliament. Parliament is usually prorogued, but this time only adjourned because the war might necessitate a hurry-up call to convene members. At the hotel Sunday a departing M.P. said: "There's really no connection between parliament adjourning and, shortly after, Mussolini resigning."

As the end of the session flickered in view, the mills of parliament started to grind faster but got caught in the whirl of some long distance debate. One subject was the Farmer's Creditors Arrangement Act, a bill bringing Manitoba into the system of farm debt legislation with her two sister provinces. Highlights: Limiting date of May 1, 1935, says. If two-thirds of a farmer's debts were incurred before that date, he may seek adjustment on all his debts, even those incurred after. Opposition members from the west took the stand that legislation didn't go far enough for the farmer. Mr. Tisley who piloted the bill thought it unwise at this time to re-open fundamental issues of western debt problems, and just couldn't see eye to eye with the three-province plan for permanent debt legislation, something which no other country has. He stressed courts have power to stay foreclosure.

Grist from the house: Opposition members also took considerable time in a front asking for lifting of a ban against Communists in Canada and Jehovah Witnesses. Minister of Justice St. Laurent said to do so involved an order by government to recommend by a parliamentary committee last session had not been implemented by majority house vote. As to Witnesses he said in view of certain evidence their recognition would be a detriment to the war effort. A special committee of 21 members named to scrutinize war expenditures. Further details will be available in your own home from the important agricultural committee tabled final reports in the house, main recommendations summarized, being: Consider advisability of paying farm storage on grain by weight. Whether to bonus marketed dairy butter and if eggs should be sold by weight. That precautions should be taken by the meat board to keep live cattle prices in proper relationship to beef carcasses, floor prices and also a measure between buyers prices to producer and price of products by the processor. From coast to coast you've argued this; but the National Research Council tabled a report in the house that wheat is a costly raw material for industrial use; the quantity of it which could be used would contribute in only a small way to the solution of our surplus problem. The report shows that wheat yields alcohol at two gals. to the bushel. At 20 cents (42¢ Wm.) a bushel, alcohol would cost 63 cents a gallon. In normal times, however, molasses makes alkyl at 23 cents a gal.

You might be interested, housewives. The other day at the prices board information branch I had a look at the new ration book you will be getting between Aug. 23-25. Twelve million are being printed, weighing 270 tons enough to fill nine box cars. Piled singly they would reach 11 miles in the air and their 141 million pages would form a ribbon three and a half inches wide five times across Canada. Color changes in the ration book: grey cover, green for the tea and coffee, red for sugar, purple for butter, meat, brown, and 4 spare series. They tell you that a man would need to live until he is 2000 years old if he started counting coupons Canadians spend, at the rate of 4,000 per working day. By the way, your August and September rationing coupons are usable now, merchants having been authorized to honor them ahead of date.

While it is definitely good news that a new farm machinery order increases quotas, it should be remembered that you won't get even benefit from it until the crop year of 1944 for obvious reasons, because many of the items can't be completed until late fall. With allotment to zones as needed, machines will be increased to tonnage equal to 77 percent of the 1940-41 output, that of repairs 156 percent. The total will be 80 percent of the average weight of machines produced in the basic period.

Any of you folks who visit Ottawa should really make a point of wandering over to parliament buildings in the lowering eventide, and sit on one of the benches of the broad and beautiful walk facing the buildings. Silhouette of the stately house of commons with the old windows lighted up, gleaming like a ship at sea; the irregular shape and spires of the east and west blocks, makes an unforgettable picture against the darkening sky. Just sit there for a while. You'll be glad you did.

With increased raising of live-stock and poultry in eastern Canada as against an indicated short grain crop, the department of agriculture here set up a subsidy on a sliding scale for eastern farmers to buy western feed grain for storage against next winter's feeding needs. It starts with a 3 cent subsidy per bushel for grain bought in July, two and one half cents in August, receding one half cent each month to a subsidy of one half cent per bushel in December.

When it is realized that our Canadian producers have got the job this year of supplying 85 percent of Great Britain's bacon requirements to maintain their four or weekly ration, it emphasizes the tremendous war job being done on the farms from ocean to ocean. To hit this high mark in 1943 means that a greater percentage of hogs offered for slaughter in Canada will have to be diverted for export. It won't reduce the amount of pork for our own consumers much, however, as canning pork for export is also reduced, mostly fresh and smoked being used now. Last year our shipment of bacon and ham to the Old Land was 5,249,519 cwt., in value $98,723,878.

The editors of "Wings" magazine of the Royal Canadian Air Force, tell me they're starting a new idea which should go over big with the kids and ladies in blues halling from towns, villages and farms. Each month a weekly newspaper editor will be given space to address a newsworthy letter to one of the home towners in some remote place on the continent, with all the spice and gossip of the period.

SUNDAY

By Isabel Inglis Colville

What Sunday means to you and me is the product of childhood memories, later experience and mature conclusions.

One's memory goes back to the Sunday feeling of long ago—the putting off of week day things as Saturday night came, and, tired with play, we lay down with a feeling of something sweet and quiet in store for us.

Our Sunday-school lessons were nestled safely in our heads, our pretty fresh dress and hair ribbon to match were laid out on the spare-room bed, the toys of every day were in their special closet, and a white page in our almost new life book lay ahead.

And then the wakening on Sunday morning, the unusual quiet of the house, the peace and serenity of the quiet world outside your window, all intensified the Sunday feeling.

To me, in those days, Sunday always had a stained-glass atmosphere, born, I suppose, of association of the church windows, which held my fascinated and unwearied attention when the sermon proved a bit beyond my childish intellect.

I never thought the stained-glass windows were man-made—I thought God took bits of the rainbow and wove them into the lovely pictures.

And this childish conception of Sunday lasted, with slight modification, till Sunday became not a day of rest but a day of work.

Get my music arranged and hurry off to church, then solo practice and quartet practice, after church a late dinner, a little rest, no supper, then church and singing and supper afterwards.

There was still the feeling of Sunday, for even in a big town there was a quietness unusual to its busy streets, but there was tension, for even in the middle of the service or sermon, one could not help wondering how one's solo, or whatever was on, was going to go.

The stained-glass windows of another bigger, more imposing church were there, but one didn't care to lose oneself to the exclusion of the present.

And now that phase has passed, and Sunday has regained much of its childish charm. Nature gives Sunday all she has—the world, on Sunday morning, to we people in the country, looks as if it were reborn. For the stained-glass of the old days, nature gives us the glowing colors of the flowers; instead of worrying about one's own ability to make a joyful noise acceptably, one throws the burden on the birds, and nobly they sing their hymns of praise to their Creator and ours.

There is something almost supernatural, something God-given and beyond human experience in the Sunday atmosphere. There is something about it that probes into the deep places of the soul and makes one feel that in the mosaic of one's life, Sundays were shaped and colored by the lovely dreams of childhood, set in place by the harder experience of the worker and now are there to be enjoyed for time and eternity.

BRINGING UP 'CANDY'

We hear so much talk in these days about psychology that I didn't see why I couldn't talk about it too.

Of course, if there are professors of that branch of science who should chance to cast an appraising or disparaging eye on these humble lines, I will tell them beforehand, for their benefit or relief, that the psychology—applied in this case—of which I write, is cat psychology.

We have a young grey Persian, of which I have written before—name of Woolley—and this lady cat, disregarding all precedent, utterly spurned, with loud growls and laid-back ears, her first kittens, so that we were compelled to assist them to depart this life, with unseemly haste.

NOW she has one solitary striped enigma, named Candy, on whom she lavishes a wealth of care, affection, education and energy, as was surely never the meed of any kitten before.

From morning to night—and maybe all night for all I know—with the exception of three hours of hard sleeping in the early afternoon, Candy is much more like a Jack-in-the-box which never stops popping than even the most playful kitten we have ever had.

And like all spoiled children, it takes advantage of its adoring parent—it slaps her face, it nips her tail and claws her ears—to all of which Woolley submits with a resigned air, emerging when allowed by the small tyrant, to look at us triumphantly, as if to say "Did you ever behold such dynamic energy?" To which, of course, we give an emphatic "never."

But there are times when Woolley asserts her maternal rights and uses psychological means to attain her ends.

The other day I was making a cake—or trying to—when up my back, as if I were a post, climbed Candy, to sit on my shoulder while I, helpless, could only hope he wouldn't take a dive into the cake.

"Mother," I moaned to that lady who sat near, shuddering, "perish me of this incubus or I perish," or words to that effect.

"Oh dear," said my parent, "why can't Woolley teach him manners?" but she was going to rise and relieve the tension when Candy, with a wild spring, landed in her lap, scattering pods in every direction.

Perhaps I had better ring down the curtain on the conclusion of this act, but—I think Woolley heard us telling Candy a few home truths, for presently we heard her calling at the back door.

But the young imp paid no more attention to her than if she had not uttered a sound, for he was engaged in a wild dance among the scattered pea pods.

Then—Woolley called

Brief History And Genealogical Record Of YONGE STREET QUAKER PIONEERS

migrating from Pennsylvania to Upper Canada 1800-1825

To the descendants of members of the Society of Friends who settled in Upper Canada and founded the Monthly Meetings of Pelham and Yonge Street and their subordinate Meetings:

It is now nearly 13 years since the contributor of these genealogical notes and records commenced the colossal work of collecting data on members of the Society of Friends who settled in Berks county in Pennsylvania during the first half of the eighteenth century. In this region their small Meetings prospered, and soon attained the status of large Monthly Meetings.

About the year 1775 some of their descendants in the second and third generations struck out for the wilderness of central and northern Pennsylvania with the purpose of finding new homes and organizing new Quaker colonies. In this territory they settled in the beautiful and fertile valley of Roaring Creek, about Catawissa and along the Susquehanna river in Northumberland county. Other descendants moved still farther north into Pennsylvania and located on the sunny northern slopes of Muncy valley and along the Loyalsock Creek; and in the uplands to the east and west of the present hamlet of Warrensville situated in Lycoming county.

Another group of Friends settled at Fishing Creek in the region about the present town of Millville in Columbia county. Their principal settlements were soon greatly increased by an influx of newcomers from Bucks county in Pennsylvania, and from Kingwood and Hardwick Meetings in New Jersey. A few families presented certificates from well-known Meetings of Friends in Chester county, Pennsylvania. From 1796 until 1799 all these Friends belonged to Catawissa Monthly Meeting. In the latter year a new Monthly Meeting was established at Muncy, composed of Friends residing at Muncy, Fishing Creek and at Loyalsock or Pine Grove.

About the beginning of the nineteenth century a few Friends belonging to Muncy Meeting paid religious visits to the province of Upper Canada, and upon their return began to extol the merits of that vast wilderness which was opening up to new settlers. One of their number later spoke of this new land "as it were flowing with milk and honey," so great was their enthusiasm concerning this newly prospecting settlement.

In the year 1800 three Friends families requested certificates of removal from Muncy Monthly Meeting to the newly organized Monthly Meeting of Pelham in Upper Canada. Between 1803 and 1808 a general evacuation of Friends residing at Catawissa took place, which reduced the membership of that Monthly Meeting to such an extent that Philadelphia Quarterly Meeting directed that this Meeting be discontinued, and the members transferred to the Monthly Meeting at Muncy.

On sixth month, 24th, 1804, a new Monthly Meeting was established at Yonge Street, and most of the Friends who removed from Northumberland and Lycoming counties in Pennsylvania resided within the verge of it, and consequently had their certificates of membership transferred to the newly instituted meeting from the Monthly Meeting of Pelham. Yonge Street Monthly Meeting prospered, and in a few years preparative meetings were established under its care, and it has had a continuity in the Society of Friends for 140 years.

The purpose of the writer in compiling and contributing these records is to stimulate interest among the descendants of these worthy Quakers (or other interested individuals) in gathering or seeking out family records which the compiler was unable to locate or obtain; thereby completing these genealogical records more fully.

It is believed much valuable data still exists in the Canadian area, contained in old Bibles and among private papers, which have never been transcribed or recorded. Such records should not be lost for posterity, who will truly appreciate them at some future time.

The genealogical records compiled herewith do not include the entire pioneer groups of Friends who founded Pelham and Yonge Street Monthly Meetings; but cover only those families removing from the localities mentioned in this history. It must be remembered that Friends also migrated from New York state, and New England area and other lower counties in Pennsylvania. These additional records it is hoped will be prepared by other interested individuals or descendants.

The compiler wishes to express his sincere gratitude to the following interested Friends and descendants who contributed their notes or assisted in supplying information of value in the preparation of these records: Silas Webb Armitage, Joseph Heacock Clayton, Caroline Waring Clayton, Charles F. Doan, Dr. Arthur G. Dorland, Charles Ellis Ecroyd, Laura Taylor Ecroyd, Charles Eves, J. Wilmer Lundy, Eleanor N. Malson, Nellie Hees Molyneux, Hannah Starr Outland, Elma McGrew Starr, Ethel Willson Trehwella, M. Virginia Walker, Jesse M. Walton, Emily G. W. Weiss, John W. Widdifield and Jesse Williams.

PERIL UNDER THE SEA!

"Crash Dive" As the imperilled submarine plummets to the bottom of the sea, the crew hangs on in silence, hoping and praying for the best. This is one of the tense scenes from the thrilling new technicolor adventure film, "Crash Dive," which stars Tyrone Power and is slated to play Monday and Tuesday at the Strand theatre. The first wartime film of Uncle Sam's battling submarines, it has been hailed as the top action film of the year.

Gathering the Sport Facts

A study in contrasts might be the title given to this story. It concerns two members of the fast-stepping Rochester "Red Wings" of the International league. On one side of the fence sits "Pepper" Martin, the colorful manager of the Cardinal farm club. Many are the legendary stories told about this man, who deservedly earned his nickname as "the wild horse of the Ozarks."

Throughout his career as a leading man with the St. Louis Gas House gang of the early 1930's, Martin was known as the most boisterous, loud-mouthed man in major league baseball. It was said that Martin could cuss more than any other man engaged in the American national game. Martin was ram-bunctious and colorful both on and off the field. So full of pranks was he that he almost drove Branch Rickey and Frankie Frisch, his manager, to desperation. Frisch regularly threw up his hands and openly declared he couldn't do a thing with his wild men.

The most startling performance the Gas House gang ever unfolded was in a fashionable Philadelphia hotel where the Cardinals were quartered. The lounge of the hotel was crowded with quiet people, without a care in the world. Suddenly some workmen bustled in through the door. They wore the full equipment of house painters. They were covered with paint and grime. If any of the guests had taken the trouble to look they might have discovered that under the house painter disguises were the faces of Pepper Martin, Dizzy Dean and Rip Collins, as well as a couple more lesser known Cardinals.

They started in by arguing briskly. Then they set up a couple of stepladders and started measuring off the lounge. Dean had a big pad and pencil in his hand and took over the job of foreman. Martin called out all the measurements. Collins disagreed loudly with every one of them. Then they set in to paint. Before they were apprehended by the irate manager, the room was a mess. Branch Rickey caught up to the playful boys then and gave them a scolding and received their promise to be good.

But Rickey never realized what pitfalls were in the way of the playful boys. When they reached the hotel lobby they discovered to their delight that a banquet was on in the grand ballroom. There were high government men on the list of speakers. The boys got into the banquet room and began shifting scenery. Martin and Collins did the shifting but no matter what they did they could not please foreman Dean. A few minutes of this and everyone in the room was watching the scene shifters instead of listening to the speakers.

Then Martin and Collins got into a violent make-believe argument over one piece of scenery. It ended up in a fight. It looked that way anyway, but looks are deceiving. Martin and Collins had rehearsed this routine many times. The room was in an uproar by this time, with everyone on his feet ready to swing at the next fellow.

Rickey came on the scene once again and restored order. The three culprits then sat in at the banquet as guests of honor. These were some of the actions of the most colorful team in baseball. Neither the years nor old age have changed or mellowed Pepper Martin. He can still play ball, and put his whole heart into it, and he can still cuss with the best of them.

In the Rochester dug-out, playing under Martin, sits another and totally different type of individual. This fellow is endowed with the same will to win but in other respects he is as unlike Martin as night is to day. This fellow is the only one of his kind in baseball. He's the Rev. Bertram Humphries a sky-pilot from an upstate New York town.

Humphries is a pitcher by trade and last year turned in a Butter brought 40 cents a pound on the local market on Saturday morning. Eggs sold at 45 cents a dozen.

Hens were 33 cents a pound. Raspberries brought 45 cents a quart box and black currants, 50 cents a quart box.

TORONTO MARKETS

Country dealers were quoted on graded eggs, cases free, delivered to Toronto, for grade A large, 42 cents; A medium, 41 cents; A pullets, 35 cents a dozen, on the Toronto markets on Tuesday.

Butter, creamery solids, No. 1 hominal, were 33 1/2 to 33 1/4 cents a pound, and creamery prints, first grade, were quoted to retail trade at 35 cents a pound.

Nominal prices to the shipper for poultry were: spring broilers, 11 to 1 1/4 pounds, 26 cents a pound; fowl, over five pounds, 23 cents a pound.

Weighty steers brought $11.50 to $12.85, with a few loads of creditable performance for the Albany "Senators" of the eastern league. Toronto could have had him this year but instead they let the option they had on him go to Rochester.

During the winter months he preaches in his church, but he obtains a leave of absence for the summer months. We wonder what his thoughts are as he sits on the Rochester bench. Has he been able to put a curb on the activities of the old Pepper, something that no one else has been able to accomplish. We doubt very much if he has. He'll probably have to sit on the bench and take it just the same as many a good umpire has. No one can tie a string to "Pepper" Martin. The International league got a break this summer when the St. Louis Cardinals decided to transfer him from their Sacramento farm club to Rochester.

HELICOPTERS

By GOLDEN GLOW

To the uninitiated the new word, "Helicopter," sounds like something invented for the comic strip. But don't be fooled, for before very long it looks as if it will be just as familiar to us as the word "motor-car." The other week I wrote a little article about the rise of the automobile, which was soon dwindled down to auto or motor or just plain "car." So why may not helicopters become something terse and short and to the point, for according to what we read in the papers there will be 50,000 (fifty thousand) built in the first year after the war. Already a firm in New York has applied for a permit to operate a helicopter route after the war!

Do I hear somebody asking in a puzzled tone "What on earth is Golden Glow writing about anyhow?" Well—if you do not know what a helicopter is, you may well ask. It is a new kind of airplane on the small size, with wings that fold up—and which goes straight up and does not need a runway. It can land and take off right in your own back yard, if you have one—or from your roof-top, if it happens to be flat. They predict that, after the war, one may be purchased for $1,500 to $1,700 and a person can learn to fly them in from five to ten minutes, and be home for dinner at the rate of 120 miles an hour.

Yes, I know it sounds like magic—but recall what I wrote the other week about the evolution of the motor-car. The last war brought us the motor-car. This present war will bring us the helicopter!

YOUTHFUL VISION

If you are 45, 55, or 65, it is likely that you no longer possess the vision of your youth. Eyes too, grow older and lose their efficiency. With properly prescribed glasses, particularly with CORRECTAL LENSES, you can again enjoy the vision of youth.

The important thing to remember in preserving youthful vision, is the necessity of proper examination of your eyes at regular intervals.

If glasses are prescribed, may we suggest that you enquire about CORRECTAL LENSES, they give you wide angle vision ... they are clear to the very edge.

In Memoriam

Townsend—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Norman Townsend, who passed away suddenly Aug. 2, 1932.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near;
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

Sadly missed by Mum, Dad, sister and brothers.

West—In loving memory of a dear son, George H. West, who passed away so suddenly at Toronto Aug. 9, 1941.

Sad and sudden was the call
Of our dear son, loved by all.
Do not ask us if we miss him,
Oh there is such a vacant place,
Sometimes we think we hear his footsteps

Or we see his smiling face.
When the days are dark and friends are few
Our dear son we long for you.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by mother and father.

West—In loving memory of our dear brother, George H. West, who passed away, Aug. 9, 1941.

No morning dawns, no night returns,
But that we think of you.
Those left behind are very dear
But none replaces you.

Sadly missed by sister, Nellie, and brother, Roy.

West—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Henry West, who passed away Aug. 9, 1941.

God knew that he was suffering,
That the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest he lies,
Sometime, some day, we know not when,
We will meet our loved one there.

Lovingly remembered by wife, Della, and son, Kenneth.

Queen's York Reservists Go Under Canvas Again

Members of C Coy., 2nd battalion, Queen's York Rangers, assembled at the Aurora armory early Sunday morning and sped by transport to Toronto, where at Fort York armory they joined the rest of the county unit and shortly after eight o'clock left by boat for Niagara camp.

Although the company has a roster of 112 men only about half of the men were able to go to camp.

Arrived at Niagara, they were welcomed by the band and officers of the unit's 1st battalion and headed by Lieut.-Col. John Hyde Bennett, paraded to their area, receiving applause en route for their fine showing. Once the business of establishing themselves in their lines had finished, the men enjoyed a hot meal.

This year's camp marks a new epoch in the long and honorable history of the Yorks, for they are under canvas in lines adjoining those of the active battalion. Few indeed are the regiments who in their history have had both active and reserve units side by side.

The bronzed, sturdy men of the active force are a source of both encouragement and inspiration to the reservists and much friendly rivalry will be engendered during the next two weeks.

Not more than 30 percent of the reserve unit has been to camp before and so the training has been devised to give advance training to the older members of the unit and recruit training to tyros. The companies act as units at all parades, and for messing and discipline but during the training periods the inexperienced from all companies are assembled for their own training.

Once they have learned the rudiments of the training syllabus they will quickly be moved on to advanced training. The new training plan is under the direction of Capt. William Hunt.

The North York company, under the command of Capt. Earl Bales, at this stage is not far behind the Toronto and Weston companies and, if the past is any criterion, by the time canvas is struck they will be as good as the others.

Lieut. William Hearst, who is second-in-command of C Coy., last year was a sergeant at camp. Lieut. J. L. R. Bell is in charge of No. 14 platoon. Lieut. Arnold Miller is with No. 15, and Lieut. Delroy Babcock with No. 16. Both Lieuts. Miller and Babcock were corporals at this time last year.

The company N.C.O.'s are under the direction of C.S.M. Clarence Doolittle of Aurora, with Howard Bunn as C.Q.M.S. "Quarters" Bunn had things in apple-pie order when the company arrived. Sgt. Harold Sleight is in charge of the company orderly room.

The sergeants this year are Jack Orr, Charlie Ellis, Tommy Bartlett, George Shouts and Tommy Spence. Corporals on hand are Bill Young, Cliff Bell, Bruce Hunter, Earl Rose, Fred Rowe, Fred Harvie and Bill Hammett. There are four lance-corporals, Ben Harrison, Syd. Lastic, Harold Taylor and Douglas Tunney. As in the past, camp will likely see other promotions.

Capt. Earl Bales is pleased with the esprit d'corps of his boys and believes that they will make up for lack of numbers by more intensive work. Within the three months period preceding camp no less than 23 members of the company went on active service. Despite a changing personnel at nearly every parade, the North Yorks have carried on all year with enthusiasm.

Delayed from leaving with the unit by pressure of work, Capt. Dr. C. J. Devins of Aurora arrived by motor in time for Sunday night's evening meal. He was warmly welcomed by both officers and men. The M.O.'s chief worries will be sunburn and blistered feet. In the past few years no serious accidents have occurred and there have been only one or two cases of broken bones.

TAUGHT AT SHARON

Several former residents of northern York county were candidates in yesterday's provincial election. Agnes Macphail (above), one-time Sharon schoolmarm and for many years member of the federal parliament, won East York for the C.C.F.

Capt. the Rev. Geo. Dix, formerly of Sharon, Ontario, was a candidate in North York for the federal seat, ran second, as a Progressive-Conservative, to E. B. Jolliffe, C.C.F. leader, in South York.

Leslie Blackwell, Lake Simcoe cottager who took a leading part in the North Gwillimbury lake shore paving contest of a few years ago, won Toronto Eglington for the Progressive-Conservatives. He had almost as many votes as the Liberal minister of health and his C.C.F. opponent together.

Ernest C. Bogart, Newmarket boy, ran third in Toronto Brimley, where Mrs. Rae Luckock, C.C.F., won the seat.

Say Scarlet Fever Was Not Reported In Winter

The Aurora board of health investigated a situation which arose last winter when an illness was prevalent which one doctor reported as scarlet fever and other doctors reported as septic sore throat, Mayor Frank Underhill told Aurora town council on Tuesday evening.

Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Gunton opened the subject. "There were over a hundred cases of scarlet fever in Aurora last winter and none was reported," Dr. Gunton said. "They were reported as septic sore throat."

"What can you do if the doctors disagree?" asked Mayor Underhill. "The doctors said it wasn't scarlet fever."

"One doctor reported it as scarlet fever," said Clerk A. C. A. Willis. "The M.O.H., Dr. Williams, took it up with the provincial department. The department said that if the doctors don't want to co-operate there is nothing that the department can do."

"One medical practitioner says it was scarlet fever," said Dr. Gunton.

"It is something for the doctors to clear up," said Mayor Underhill.

"There was scarlet fever in the family of a milk driver and people refused to take milk from him," said Dr. Gunton.

"If not reported as scarlet fever, it is not scarlet fever," said Mayor Underhill.

"The cases of the doctor who reported them as scarlet fever were placarded," said Mr. Willis in reply to a question from Dr. Gunton.

"Doctors are an authority to themselves," said Mayor Underhill. "They are the only ones qualified to pass on these things. It is best for the council to stay out of matters we can't influence, even though they may concern us as citizens."

Aurora Kid Hardballers Even Score With "Hill"

Aurora juveniles defeated Richmond Hill hardballers 14-8 at Richmond Hill last week. The series now stands at one game apiece.

Overcoming a 7-4 lead that the Hill had built up, Aurora scored ten runs in the last two frames to win out.

Pete King, Aurora second baseman, was the spark-plug of the team, getting two doubles and a single for four tries. "Red" Rose also had three for four, one a double.

Bill Maundell had a perfect evening with a single and three walks. Dore, who starred behind the bat for the Hill, and Clement, with two each, were the leading hitters for the home club.

Simmons and Brody were the hurlers for Aurora, each turning in creditable performances, Simmons striking out three, Brody four.

Aurora scored 14 runs on 12 hits, Richmond Hill eight runs on seven hits. The Hill kicked in with two errors, while Aurora had one.

MILK INSPECTOR WILL RECEIVE $300 SALARY TANNERY CONSTRUCTS WASTE DISPOSAL PLANT

In consideration of "the increased cost of travel," "increased distances" which he must travel, and "increased duties," Aurora town council increased the salary of J. R. Walker, milk inspector, to $300, at a meeting on Tuesday evening.

The council had increased Mr. Walker's salary $50 to $250 some months ago, on the recommendation of the board of health, but Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks reported to the council on Tuesday evening that this increase wasn't satisfactory to Mr. Walker.

"He has to go farther," said Mr. Sparks, who operates the Aurora Dairy. "Toronto is picking up milk shippers, and we have to go further for our milk. I am going back of Newmarket to one herd."

"If anyone doesn't live inside the town limits he doesn't have to pay the cost of milk inspection," commented Councillor A. A. Cook. "King and Whitechurch should pay too."

"You can't get them to pay for other things," commented Mayor Frank Underhill.

"We are the goats," said Mr. Cook. "The taxes are so high that everyone wants to build outside of towns."

"Would you like to give up milk inspection?" asked Mr. Underhill.

"No, but it is no use talking about reducing the mill rate and adding to the expense at the same time," said Mr. Cook.

Mr. Sparks said that Mr. Walker had to inspect the premises of each shipper once a month, but that he combined these visits with his veterinary practice. There would be 60 or 70 shippers to the two Aurora dairies, he said.

SELI, WAR STAMPS

Aurora variety stores are pushing the sale of war savings stamps this month.

Collis Leather Co. is going forward with construction of a disposal plant for the tannery waste, Councillor A. N. Fisher told Aurora town council on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Fisher gave the council information which he and Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Gunton, chairman of the sanitation committee, had received from Dr. A. E. Berry of the Ontario department of health.

Mr. Fisher said that Dr. Berry had recommended that after the war the town should spend a considerable amount of money to improve the drying vats of the town's own sewage disposal plant, and that Dr. Berry had suggested that it might be done with provincial post-war employment projects money.

"It is not necessary," said Reeve C. A. Malloy. "We have had no complaints about our sewage disposal plant. Tests have shown that it is efficient."

"Governments will have to do more about health after the war, and perhaps the changes in handling these things may be revolutionary," said Mayor Frank Underhill.

With regard to the tannery disposal problem, Mayor Underhill said: "I think that this council will co-operate to a reasonable extent, but we are acting for the citizens as a whole. We will just have to carry on as we have."

When Dr. Gunton arrived at the meeting, he confirmed what Mr. Fisher had said: "The tannery is taking steps, at considerable expense, to treat the waste with chemicals."

Farmer: "Gosh! You must have plenty of nerve to come down in a parachute in a hundred-mile gale like this."

Stranger: "I didn't come down in a parachute. I went up in a tent."

AURORA REMAINS "TRUE BLUE"

George Drew emerged from yesterday's Ontario election with the largest group in the Ontario legislature. Mr. Drew, with probably 38 followers, is likely to be asked to form a government. E. B. Jolliffe, C.C.F. leader, had the second largest group.

Aurora remained true to tradition in giving its largest vote to the Progressive-Conservatives. Mackenzie had 420 votes, Baker (Liberal) 105, and Mitchell (C.C.F.) 225.

Social and Personal NEW SIDEWALKS GET APPROVAL OF COUNCIL

Aurora town council gave approval to plans for new sidewalks presented by Reeve C. A. Malloy at a meeting on Tuesday evening.

Plans included 470 feet by five feet of the south side of Wellington St. E., 384 feet by five feet on the north side of Wellington St. E., and 290 feet by three feet ten inches on the south side of Tyler St.

The work will be done by town employees.

The council approved payment of the expenses of $35 of Fire Chief Harry Jones to attend a firemen's convention in St. Catharines Aug. 24-27.

Councillor A. A. Cook and Reeve C. A. Malloy made the motion. "The firemen do a lot of fine work, and I think that we should encourage them," said Councillor A. N. Fisher.

Mayor Frank Underhill told the town council that panic hardware purchased for Mechanics' hall some time ago had not yet been put on.

An application from A. Hartsman, formerly of Chatham, for a license as a junk-yard and second-hand dealer was referred to the by-laws committee.

"There should be a nine-foot board fence around it," said Mr. Malloy.

"He agreed to do that," said Mayor Underhill.

The town will purchase a one and half inch water meter for the Ordnance Depot, it was decided.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. C. Gunton left this week for three weeks vacation at Parry Sound.

Rev. Roy Hicks, who is on holidays, is assisting relatives with haying and harvesting.

Mrs. G. Monk, Toronto, spent the weekend with Major and Mrs. C. R. Boulding.

SEEK RECIPE TO RID TOWN OF STARLINGS

Starlings by the thousands are a nuisance on the east side of the town in the neighborhood of the town park and the high school, and around Councillor G. A. C. Gunton's home, Councillor A. A. Cook told Aurora town council on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Cook suggested writing to the O.A.C. at Guelph, and Mayor Frank Underhill asked Clerk A. C. A. Willis to do so, and to ask if there was any means of exterminating the starlings.

"Write to the Municipal World," suggested Reeve C. A. Malloy. "They are authorities on municipal matters."

IMPROVE BALL FIELD PLAYING HARBALL

The diamond at the Aurora town park will be enlarged, to improve the field for softball and particularly hardball, Aurora town council decided on Tuesday evening.

Mayor Frank Underhill put the request before the council. "Some young fellows have started hardball," said the mayor. "I think myself it is a good thing to have these young fellows playing ball in the park instead of running loose. Ordnance Depot is using the field too."

These three fine young Canadians are the sons of Pte. and Mrs. Claude White, Aurora. Freddie, who is ten, is in the rear, with Claude, four, and Raymond, six, in front. Pte. Keeping Rate Down Not Necessarily Wise - Mayor

The question of how the purchase price and upkeep of the town's newly purchased truck should be apportioned as between departments was raised by Councillor A. A. Cook, chairman of the water committee, at an Aurora town council meeting on Tuesday evening.

The suggestion was that the upkeep should be charged 50 percent to the light department, 25 percent to the water department and 25 percent to the corporation, said Mr. Cook.

"That is too much bookkeeping," said Reeve C. A. Malloy. "The town won't need the truck. Divide it between the water and light departments."

"That would be all right if the water department were to charge the town for hydrants for fire service, as done in some towns," said Mr. Cook.

"I'm not in favor of that either," said Mr. Malloy. "We have a nice system now. The water department makes ends meet and pays something over to the general fund."

"But maybe everybody else is in favor of it," smiled Mr. Cook.

"We want to keep the mill rate down to 40 mills," said Mr. Malloy.

"Everybody doesn't look at it that way," said Mayor Frank Underhill. "A man was scolding me the other day for not letting the mill rate go up, and giving something in return for it."

The council agreed to charge the cost of the truck two-thirds to the light department and one-third to the water department. Mr. Cook said that he would discuss the maintenance of the truck with Councillor Ross Linton, chairman of the light committee.

Parking Is "Disgusting," Declares Town Councillor

Signs are to be erected forbidding double parking on Yonge St., and a parking by-law to that effect is to be enforced, Aurora town council agreed on Tuesday evening.

"There are often four lanes of parking on Yonge St. when it is not necessary," Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Gunton told the council. "There was a by-law passed ten years ago when P. M. Thompson was mayor but it can't be enforced unless signs are put up forbidding double parking."

"I don't believe that you can prevent a truck unloading," said Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks.

"You can prevent them obstructing traffic," said Dr. Gunton.

"The merchants asked last year for a parking by-law," said Deputy-Reeve C. A. Malloy. "We asked them what hours of parking they wanted and we haven't heard from them since."

"The police would do something about it, but they say it is no use if there are no signs up."

"I think that the trouble is that no one has been checked up," said Councillor A. N. Fisher.

"The trucks park double when there is no need," said Mayor Underhill. "The question is do we need signs."

"I think that if the police are given instructions the situation can be improved 50 percent," said Mr. Fisher. "It is really disgusting now."

The council adopted a resolution providing for signs and enforcement.

MARIE SHAVE IS AUGUST BRIDE AURORA BOYS SERVE WITH ARMY IN SICILY

A quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. W. Stewart at Aurora on Tuesday when Marie Elinor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shave, Harrison Ave., Aurora, became the bride of Gordon Donald MacInnis, of the R.C.O.C., Barriefield, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. E. MacInnis, Kirkfield, Ont.

The bride was charming in her going away outfit, a powder blue crepe dress with navy accessories. Her matron of honor, Mrs. E. Gonneau, wore aster purple with brown accessories.

The bride and groom left for a trip to points south, after which the groom will leave for Barriefield, where he is stationed.

JOINS C.W.A.C.

Mrs. Percy Lloyd leaves this week to join the C.W.A.C. Mrs. Lloyd will serve with the military transport section. Her husband, Sp. Percy Lloyd, has been overseas since 1940. This will mark the first husband and wife combination in Aurora to be on active service in the present conflict. Mrs. Lloyd is a well known badminton and tennis player.

While little is known locally of just how many Aurora boys are seeing action in Sicily the names of the units involved would seem to indicate the town is well represented.

Lieut. William Stuart, son of ex-Councillor John Stuart and Mrs. Stuart, according to word received, is in action with a Canadian reconnaissance unit.

With Toronto's famed 48th Highlanders were Bruce and Jay Stiles, the former now reported missing, C.Q.M.S. Bill Trent, and others. A few weeks before the campaign opened, Pte. Floyd Yake was transferred to the Royal Regiment. Also serving with the Royals is Lieut. J. P. Cox.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Aurora Ordnance Depot Softballers, deprived of playing in a regular league all season, have kept in shape, under the direction of Cpl. Al. Danstani, with a series of exhibition games, and with the permission of Capt. Norman Campbell, C.O., and M.D.2 authorities, have filed an entry in the intermediate O.A.S.A. intermediate series with Secretary Verne McIlwraith of Guelph and will enter the provincial playdowns.

No announcement of likely opposition has been made as yet but the team will continue to play exhibition games until the playoffs start, and right now are about due for a win. Toronto R.C.O.C. and No. 3 Armored Training Regiment will both come to Aurora to play in the near future and the Depot boys are confident that they can hold their own. The team is now equipped with spike shoes, which will aid both fielding and base-running.

Four New Players not connected with the team or the depot will be added to strengthen the team. Morley Cook, the cannonball hurler of the Aces, Harold Botham and others have been working out with the team and do not be surprised if Like all other Canadian provinces, Québec has loyally geared her energies and resources to furthering Canada's war effort; she plays a vital part in the United Nations' momentous fight for freedom. Québec "delivers the goods," in quality and quantity. Her sons and daughters distinguish themselves in all branches of combat, and in the production of munitions, foodstuffs and war equipment.

We cordially greet all visitors to the Province of Québec. Though our people are busy day and night on war work, the quaint charm, scenic beauty, romantic atmosphere and traditional Gallic hospitality of old Québec to visitors remain unchanged.

Our friends in Ontario and elsewhere in Canada will find a hearty welcome whenever they visit French Canada, whether on business, war duty or vacation. As wartime restrictions curtail pleasure driving and travel, it is suggested that vacationists select some particular district of Québec Province and spend all their holiday there. Rawlings, Ken Brown, Bill Muford, among others. Harler Bill Bone was also on active service briefly. Guess district honors could be wrapped up if that crew ever all got together at one time. Eddie Leip, last year's sensational kid shortstop with Toronto Maple Leafs, is a member of the Canadian air force and is playing sensational football with one of the Toronto R.C.A.F. teams. Eddie just missed going to Angus much to the disgust of Cpl. Howard Leonard, mentor of the Angus Bombers softball team.

Stan Evans of Newmarket, incidentally, is just about one of the best outfielders playing service softball.

The Angus team, with the exception of Barney Reid, whose clever play was one of the highlights of last winter's hockey, is now back to full strength. Reid suffered a broken arm in an auto accident, so had it required wiring to place it in position for healing.

Larry O'Connor, former Olympic athlete and last year's coach of Newmarket camp track team, has regained his old-time form, which marked him as one of the best hurdlers in the world. O'Connor, now an officer overseas, last week-end captured from all comers the 120 yards armed forces hurdles in an overseas meet.

The Senate for some years has been looked upon as an unneeded appendage to Canada's already heavily laden tree of government but last week the senators came out of their haze to emerge victor over Justice Minister St. Laurent, and in the eyes of those in the know to show the common sense they are said to possess. As you will recall, Mr. St. Laurent was the originator of the notorious amendments to the criminal code with respect to betting. We pointed out some weeks ago what we thought were its weaknesses, and when the commons and senate got through with the bill we found our objections had been justified.

First of all, the commons amended the bill until wire companies and newspapers were excluded from punishment for purveying racing information. But it still left a bill designed to legislate goodness, and create an intolerable condition. The senate struck out the "likely to be used for gambling" clause and the "likely" clause as it applied to publications containing racing news. So the picture is practically unchanged, which, while still not making sense, is better than that proposed. Some hard things have been said about the senate, first and last, but it appears that it has a breadth of vision in some matters which the house of commons lacks - ask the bookies.

Infield Fly Rule, as we recall it, is as follows for softball. Any batter who hits a pop fly or fumbles it, is automatically out provided the first and second base, or first, second and third are occupied. This is enforced to protect the team at bat and to prevent the intentional dropping of the ball and a consequent double-play. We mention this in answer to an inquiry. We haven't our rule book with us, so we hope it's clear. Round-Robin Play-Offs are out for the duration, so far as hardball is concerned, and if the same idea can be extended to every line of sport it will be a good thing. Conceivably the round-robin series was carried to extremes, especially in hockey. What fans want, or we miss our guess, is a play-off idea to end play-offs. No more than two teams in any group should enter a playdown series. In fact most of our sports got along very well when the team finishing first over the regular series was declared the winner.

Doug May, former Newmarket, Sutton and Camp Borden hockeyist, has been wounded in action in Sicily as the result of an exploding shell. Newspaper accounts report May to be recovering nicely, which will be good news for the big fellow's many friends in North York.

POLICE COURT MISTAKEN IDENTITY, IS SOLDIER'S DEFENCE

Robert McBride, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs, on a charge of careless driving, by Magistrate W.
N. Robinson in Newmarket police court last week.
Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson said that Mr. McBride had passed another car on a curve but that there had been no accident.
A charge of speeding against Tpr. D. H. Pollock, Camp Borden, was adjourned for a week when he contended that someone else must have taken out his army vehicle and, when stopped at 70 miles per hour, showed the constable his army orders or driving permit.
Provincial Constable Ferguson
said that Tpr. Pollock's station wagon "passed me at Poplar Bank being driven at a terrific speed.
He went from Eagle St. to Aurora at 70 miles per hour, and through Aurora at 60 miles an hour." The constable said that it was Tpr.
Pollock that he stopped and talked to.
Appearing on Tpr. Pollock's behalf, Lieut. W. Hunnisett said that "Tpr. Pollock checked in at 5 p.m.
His vehicle was stolen. Pollock was in camp at 10 p.m. for roll-call."
"It's getting to the point where we will have to take them into custody," remarked Constable Ferguson.
"Soldier or no soldier," agreed Magistrate Robinson.
"The records show he was in camp," said Lieut. Hunnisett.
"Can you swear that he was in camp?" asked the magistrate.
"No," said Lieut. Hunnisett.
"I can't take records," said Magistrate Robinson. "They could be faked. He knew he was in for a serious charge."
Cpl. James McComb, who testified that Tpr. Pollock was in camp the evening of the alleged offence, said: "He told me he was in trouble."
Magistrate Robinson: "What else
did he tell you?"
Cpl. McComb: "He told me he was caught for speeding."
Magistrate Robinson: "He told me he was caught for speeding?"
Another soldier testified that he remembered that Tpr. Pollock was in camp that evening, June 23, as he was going to the show with him, but they decided not to go.
"You can't remember what happened two weeks before (the charge was laid) unless there is a riot in camp," said Magistrate Robinson.
Lieut. Hunnisett said that with a little effort he could remember what he had been doing an evening two weeks previous.
Tpr. Pollock said that he had left his "standing orders" in the vehicle. "I have been three years in Camp Borden and I have had a lot of dirty tricks played on me."
"You're saying that you're persecuted," said Magistrate Robinson.
"Can you get marked present if you aren't present?" asked Tpr.
Pollock.
"You can get yourself marked present when you are A.W.O.L.," said Magistrate Robinson. "I've done it myself in the last war."
The magistrate said that "there is someone perjuring himself in this case."
Constable Ferguson said that he would bring an additional witness as to the identity of Tpr. Pollock.
"The defence can bring any additional evidence too," said the magistrate. "It will be worthwhile, for this is a serious offence and there will be a severe penalty."
Magistrate Robinson dismissed a charge of driving 43 miles an hour in Aurora laid by Chief Constable Fisher Dunham against Dr. Warren O. Stoddart, who wrote to the court that he had an emergency call to Toronto, and that he was past the "populated part of the town."
Wilfred Welch, 30 years old,
Aurora, was given three months definite and three months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory, for the theft of wood valued at $20
from Milton Graves, in Uxbridge township, on July 15.
Constable Windsor laid the charge.
"Why did you take the wood in the middle of the night?" asked
N. L. Mathews, K.C.
"It was the only time we could get out," said Welch, who contended that he had bought the wood.
A 17-year-old Oak Ridges boy was given one year's suspended sentence on a similar charge.
"Were it not that I have some doubt about whether you had a blow-out I would find you guilty of dangerous driving," Magistrate
Robinson told Russell Thomas, Toronto, who was fined $25 and costs or 30 days on a careless driving charge.
Mr. Thomas had two ribs broken and two ladies, passengers in his car, were injured when his car ran wild in Whitechurch township. Constable Robert Windsor testified.
The defendant blamed the accident on a blow-out.
"It was the first time I had been over the road and I should have been more careful," said Mr.
Thomas.
Mr. Mathews asked him if he had ever heard a blow-out before.
He said no.
"It is like a pistol-shot," Mr.
Mathews told him.
Constable Joseph Jardine testified that Pte. Joe Koveny was driving at 57 miles an hour in East Gwillimbury.
"I followed him for two and a half miles," said Constable Jardine. "He objected to my not having my hat on. I told him to have his speedometer checked."
"I had my speedometer checked," the defendant told the court. "It is out six miles per hour at 60 miles per hour. My speedometer said 45 miles per hour."
"Your speedometer was out and you're a soldier," said Magistrate Robinson. "I'll give you a break and treat you as though you were driving between 40 and 50 miles an hour. Fifteen dollars and costs."
Norman Bradshaw, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of
"attempting to pass" laid by Constable Ferguson.
Chief Constable Fisher Dunham,
Aurora, laid the following charges:
W. H. Boucher, Toronto, $18 and costs; Brynon Shiled, Bracebridge, $16 and costs; Richard Massey,
Hamilton, $15 and costs; Boyes
Drug Co., Pickering, $15 and costs;

POLICE COURT

DENTIST IDENTIFIES 70 M.P.H. SOLDIER

Chester W. Mott, Toronto, pleaded guilty to illegal possession of liquor, before Magistrate W. N. Robinson, in Newmarket police court on Tuesday. He was fined $10 and costs.

Constable Aubrey Fleury testified that he had found one bottle of beer in Mott's car in Whitchurch township.

"I was going away for the weekend and I tossed the bottle into the car," said Mr. Mott.

A charge of driving 45 miles per hour in Aurora laid against Jules E. Goldstein, Toronto, was withdrawn when a young woman, a passenger in his car at the time, presented a doctor's certificate to the effect that she had been ill and was being rushed to hospital in Toronto on the orders of a doctor at Port Carling.

A charge of driving 50 miles per hour in Aurora, laid by Chief Constable Fisher Dunham against Flt-Lieut. Allan A. Lampert, Trenton, was adjourned for personal service.

Pte. John O'Brien, No. 23 basic training centre, pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor in North Gwillimbury on July 21.

Constable Carl Morton and Constable W. R. Hill testified that they saw the accused and some friends take beer from Pte. O'Brien's car at Riverdale park and open it. "We took the beer from them," said Constable Morton.

"Pte. O'Brien admitted ownership."

A friend of O'Brien's said that he was sitting in the car and that there was "no beer so far as I know." He said that he was suffering from indigestion from something he ate.

"Sure it wasn't something you drank?" queried the magistrate.

There was no beer in his car, said Pte. O'Brien. "Another man was caught with two bottles of open beer, and he's not in court," said Pte. O'Brien.

"Did you see beer in his car?" the magistrate asked Constable Carl Morton.

"No, I saw it taken out of his car," said Constable Morton.

Pte. O'Brien was fined $10 and costs or ten days.

Magistrate Robinson dismissed a charge against John S. Fairly because the information, laid down at the Adelaide St. court, did not reach the Newmarket court promptly. Mr. Fairly's father, a Toronto lawyer, complained that he had been kept waiting.

Magistrate Robinson said that if the summons said 10 a.m., the information should be at the court by 10 a.m. N. L. Mathews, K. C., for the crown, asked that all informations be laid at Newmarket in future.

Two 17-year-old boys, summer residents at Keswick, were fined $20 and costs each on charges of illegal possession of liquor.

Constable Carl Morton produced a case of beer which he and Constable A. McCallum had taken from the boys.

"Did they tell you where they bought it?" asked N. L. Mathews, K. C. Constable Morton said that the boys had told him that "this morning."

"I want them to go into the box and establish where they purchased it," said Mr. Mathews.

After study of the Liquor Control Act, Magistrate Robinson told the boys: "You have the choice of telling the circumstances or I have to send you to jail."

One of the boys went into the box and said that he bought the beer "at the retail store at Jackson's Point with a permit."

"Where did you get the permit?" asked Mr. Mathews.

"There, at the warehouse," said the youth.

"You had to sign a form?"

"Yes."

"Did they ask your age?" "No."

The court instructed the boys to go home and get the permit. When they returned Mr. Mathews commented that the youth had signed a statement that he was 21 years old.

"You could be charged with obtaining under false pretences," said Mr. Mathews. "That would entail a jail sentence." He said that the permit should be turned in.

"To the liquor control board," said Magistrate Robinson, "unless you are going to take action against the warehouse."

"It will go to the liquor control board and perhaps they will take action," said Mr. Mathews.

The fathers of the two boys were present and asked the court to confiscate the boys' car.

"The oil controller will look after that," said Mr. Mathews.

"It was an offence for anyone to sell you beer," said Magistrate Robinson. "And you had girls with you. You could be convicted of giving liquor to minors, a serious offence."

A charge against Arnold Doornaal, Toronto, that he assaulted Peter Curl, in King township, on July 29, was adjourned to enable Mr. Doornaal, who said in broken English that he spoke Polish and Dutch, to obtain an interpreter.

Pte. D. H. Pollock, Camp Borden, who appeared last week on a charge of driving at the rate of 70 miles an hour between Newmarket and Aurora, brought additional witnesses to prove that he was not the man who drove the station wagon and that someone else drove it and impersonated him.

Lillian King, Chinese waitress in an Aurora restaurant, told the court that she remembered Provincial Constable Ferguson and the soldiers being in the restaurant and that she remembered Dr. G. A. C. Ganton being there. She couldn't identify Tpr. Pollock.

Dr. Ganton identified Tpr. Pollock, who, he said, was "quite eloquent in his plea to Con. Ferguson not to involve the other soldier."

After the constable left the restaurant, said Dr. Ganton, Tpr. Pollock remarked: "I am going to get that so-and-so." Dr. Ganton said that Tpr. Pollock was wearing work clothes and shorts.

Magistrate Robinson said: "I am forced to the conclusion that you were the driver of the car on the night in question. The only real denial is by yourself. I find you guilty. In view of what has been said by your officer, that you have not been in trouble before, I will be lenient. This business of going 70 miles an hour through populated areas positively must be stopped. I have to impose severe penalties and make them more severe until it is stopped."

"I realize that soldiers haven't much money to pay fines. So they should be more careful. Twenty-five dollars and costs. This is the most lenient sentence I have given for such a speed since the defence of Canada regulations were started."

Magistrate Robinson dismissed a charge of exceeding the speed limit against Vincent Argue, Toronto, when the latter wrote that it was a case of "mistaken identity." Chief Constable Fisher Dunham, Aurora, laid the charge.

The magistrate dismissed a speed charge against Gordon W. Bouskill, Toronto, of going 50 miles per hour, when he presented a certificate showing that his speedometer was inaccurate. Constable George Foster, Georgina township, laid the charge.

The magistrate dismissed a speed charge against A. Stein & Co., Toronto, when they presented a certificate to show that their speedometer was accurate. The driver wrote to the court that he had seen the speed-test cable and slowed down to make sure that it was not a fallen electric wire, and that he was not exceeding 40 miles an hour at any time.

Oscar Wright, Keswick, was sentenced to three months definite and three months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory on an assault charge.

1 Give News and Facts in Copy...
2 Advertise Regularly...
3 Buy Space Carefully...

Three Simple Rules For Profitable

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

1. Make your advertising copy easy to read, friendly and informative. People read newspapers for the news. Give them facts and news about your merchandise and services.

2. Advertise regularly. Do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.

3. Protect your advertising investment by insisting on audited circulation reports that tell you just what circulation you get for your money. Guesswork is wasteful.

*In order that you may know just what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper, we are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. This is a national, co-operative association of more than 2,000 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, the purpose of the Bureau is to establish and maintain definite standards of circulation, audit the circulation records of the publisher members and report this verified information to advertisers.

Biennially, one of the Bureau's large staff of trained auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation. The verified facts and figures thus obtained are issued in an official A.B.C. report.

Our A.B.C. report tells how much circulation we have, where the circulation goes, how it was obtained, how much people pay for it and many other facts that you should know when you buy newspaper advertising. Thus, when you advertise in this newspaper your investment is in known and verified values.
